

I don't have them drawn in, but the trails that the XCGB-YA are riding are in the area outlined in black on the map. We ride/drive up the road on the east boundary and then head back west and south from the top.

The trails marked in red on the original map are only for hikers that like stairs.

